Faculty of Electronic Engineering

At the end of fifties of the last century there was one engineer in 55 employed in electro industry. According to the development plan of this economy branch in 1961 and 1962 there were 45000 people to be employed, and in 1971 those were 80000 workers. At that time engineers were educated at the Faculty of Electrical Engineering in Belgrade.

In the academic year 1960/61 the first generation of students of the department of Electronics of the Technical Faculty of Niš was enrolled.

From the moment when the first graduated student Aleksandar (Antonije) Nenčić defended his diploma paper till today, 5509 candidates obtained diplomas of the Faculty of Electronic Engineering in Niš, 516 defended master theses, and 187 candidates defended doctor theses.
